Notes: Rebecca ANDREASEN

In the Biography below It says here death was 26 Jun 1981 from cancer.
The US census only has Jun 1981.

At least some of the following was written by Ronald Z. Vance. but there may be more than one author.²

Rebecca Anderson was born February 6, 1905 and died June 26, 1981 from cancer. she was one of sixteen children born to Anders and Matilda Larsen Andersen, fourteen of these children lived to be adults.

Rebecca met Wilbur Charles Vance while cooking on a haying crew and was married to him in March of 1930 in Burley, Idaho. To this marriage, .of 51 years, five children were born; Roger Dale was born on October 4, 1930. Other children included Twins Willis Dean (Dean) and Phillis Jean (Jean) born January 1, 1933, Marion Lee (Scotty) born November 16, 1934 and Ronald Zane (Ish) born May 13, 1931.

She was a telephone operator until being married. Wilbur and Rebecca lived and farmed in the Burley area until 1938.

In July of 1937 she professed to serve her Lord and was faithful until the end.

The whole family moved to Homedale, Idaho, in 1938 to a patch of sagebrush waiting for water. This is where Rebecca lived for the rest of her life. She worked in the fields for many years. She was a very good mother, in her tough but very effective discipline. Rebecca's talent was very good as far as cooking especially pastries. I wore many tailor made shirts during my school and early adult years. Mom was a peacemaker with many people in the community. She supported her children and grandchildren in their school and religious activities.

Her children refer to her as the mother of all mothers. She loved and supported her family in whatever their endeavor. Grandma Beck as she was called by her 17 grandchildren and 5 step-grandchildren, never missed an event those kids had.

The first thing she checked for when her grandchildren were born was to see if they had red hair. She would turn them this way then that way to see if the light would catch it and make it gleam! Grandma cherished her Danish descent and searched for it in their red hair. Grandma Beck didn't miss any of her children or grandchildren's events. She even braved a 747 and flew to Alaska to see her grandson and great-grandchildren. She endured the intense Idaho heat for her granddaughters horse projects and went to Salt Lake City and Blackfoot on a regular basis to see her children and grandchildren. Beck's sisters and brothers were so important and loved by her, she visited them as often as she could.

One of the fondest memories is of Christmas time candy. She started it in November and hid it about the house in-tins. On Christmas Eve we had a candy festival, we all left there knowing we were loved.

Grandma Beck crocheted afghans for each of her grandchildren and painted tea-towels for the girls. The boys were spoiled through out their growing up with hand-sewn shirts and each child knowing how much they were loved and thought of Grandma Beck lived to see six of her great grand-children before she passed away. She made each of them a birth gift too, she was truly a grandmother of grandmothers.

Rebecca loved going to Silver Creek where they had a one room cabin nestled in the forest and fronted by a little ice-cold creek. Each year she and Geraldine, her best friend, would head up there in June after her church convention. There they would enjoy cooking on the old fashioned wood Stove, bake potatoes in the fire pit, but would especially enjoy cups of coffee while studying and meditating on her notes from church convention, Her love for her Lord and faithfulness was a true inspiration to her family.

Her first son Roger died an October 7, 1987, from a trucking accident. Dean, a retired schoolteacher, lives in Homedale, Idaho, Jean, a retired R.N. lives in Idaho City, Idaho. Marian a lumber and construction man just finished his retirement home in New Meadows, Idaho. Ronald works as an agricultural test and chemical salesman. He lives in Aberdeen, Idaho.

When they retired from the drug store they moved to Idaho City where she resides presently. Dick passed away some years ago.

They have 4 children Gary Steven, Brian Lee, Kelly Ray and Audrey Louise. They live in Homedale, Idaho. Marian and Barbara have 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Marian started working for Boise Cascade in the lumber business in 1951 and in 1980 bought the lumber yard. He also started in Dairy construction at the same time and today builds state of the art Dairy Barns all over the northwest. Marion and Barbara love spending time with their children and grandchildren and also enjoy traveling. They love horseback riding and Marion hunts with Dean and Ish. He loves his brothers claiming they are the best in the world.

Roger Dale was born October 4, 1930. He resided in the Salt Lake City area until his death in 1987. Roger worked at the family farm until his 17th birthday, at which time he signed up for the Navy. After his tour was finished he became a professional truck driver. Roger received an award for driving 1,000,000 (yes million), accident free miles.
